WHEREAS, the 1994 Act and the 2011 Act provides in Sub-Section (3) of Section (1) of the respective Acts that these provision shall come into force in a State which adopts the Act under Clause (1) of 252 of the Constitution on the date of such adoption.

WHEREAS, it would be desirable that the aforesaid 1994 Act and the 2011 Act should be adopted in the State of Nagaland for regulation of transplantation of human organs.

NOW, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by Clause (1) of Article 252 of the Constitution of India, this House resolves that the Transplantation of Human Organ Act 1994 (No.42 of 1994) along with Transplantation of Human Organs (Amendment) Act, 2011 (No.16 of 2011) shall be adopted in the State of Nagaland.

(a) Resolution On The Securitisation And Reconstruction Of Financial Assets And Enforcement Of Security Interest (Sarfaesi) Act, 2002

Shri Neiphiu Rio, Hon'ble Chief Minister moved for the introduction of the following Resolution:

- Whereas, the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 (SARFAESI Act, 2002) empowers banks and financing institutions to take possession of the mortgaged assets against default in repayment of loan and realise their money by selling the secured assets without the intervention of Courts.
- And whereas, Article 371A(I)(a)(iv) of the Constitution of India provides that no Act of Parliament in respect of ownership and transfer of land and its resources shall apply to the State of Nagaland unless the Legislative Assembly of Nagaland by a resolution so decides.
- And whereas, the Nagaland Land and Revenue Regulations (Amendment) Act, 2002 amended the Assam Land and Revenue Regulations, 1886 by inserting a proviso after sub-section (2) of section 162 permitting transfer by way of mortgage in favour of the banks, registered co-operative societies and the financing institutions with the condition that such entities shall not transfer any land to a person other than the indigenous inhabitants of Nagaland except with the previous sanction of the State Government or an authority appointed in this behalf.
- And whereas, opinions have been expressed on the applicability of the SARFAESI Act, 2002 on account of the specific constitutional protections under Article 371A(I)(a)(iv), and the consequent non-implementation of the SARFAESI Act, 2002 has been detrimental to the overall economic growth of the State as it has restricted flow of credit to the people as the Banks have been reluctant to provide loans in the absence of secured assets and an effective mechanism for the expeditious recovery of dues in case of default in loan repayment.

- v. The provisions of SARFAESI Act, 2002 cannot override any provision of the Constitution of India. The tenor of Article 371A of the Constitution of India will apply at the stage when the Banks/Financial Institutions would make an attempt to transfer the ownership of the property through the process of auction. Therefore, the Banks/Financial Institutions are obligated to respect and follow the mandatory constitutional protection (Article 371 A (I)(a)(iv)) to ensure that the ownership of Security Interest is transferred, following the procedures laid down in the SARFAESI Act 2002 read with the Nagaland Land & Revenue Regulations (Amendment) Act, 2002 and other applicable Acts of Nagaland, only in favour of an indigenous person and none else.
- vi. Now, therefore, keeping in view the above position, with a view to provide clarity to the implementing agencies, the Nagaland Legislative Assembly may pass this Resolution for implementing the SARFAESI Act, 2002 in Nagaland in accordance with the explanation provided in the preceding paragraphs.
